

How to Join 4-H

There are two kinds of 4-H clubs that youth may join; community clubs and project clubs. In either type, youth have fun with a purpose. To find a 4-H Club near you, please click on a club name to the right.

Community clubs are clubs comprised of kids that live in a given area or community. These youth are enrolled in a variety of projects. Community clubs typically have structured business meetings, and emphasize community service, recreational activities and improving communication skills.

Project clubs have members who share a passion for one single project. The kids are all enrolled in the same project. Meetings and community activities similar to the community clubs are conducted, but with the focus on a specific project.

In either club, 4-H youth “learn by doing.” Johnson County’s 4-H clubs offer a variety of opportunities for youth to learn about photography, public speaking, horses, showing dogs, community involvement and more.

Persons interested in joining 4-H are encouraged to visit with and attend a few of the various Johnson County clubs to determine which club best matches their child and family’s interests. Visitors are always welcome.

For your convenience, we have grouped our clubs by location. Click on the club name to learn more details about that club.
